

The Reston Chorale

Robert E. Simon Jr. Music Scholarships

Through The Reston Chorale's Robert E. Simon Jr. Music Scholarships, high school and college vocalists expand their musical horizons by performing in The Reston Chorale, and receive financial awards to support their education. Financial scholarships are awarded in May, based upon the number of concert segments music scholars successfully complete during the season.

Scholarships available with ensemble voted
"Best Municipal Chorus" in the DC Region.

Scholarship Awards

The Reston Chorale awards scholarships each season to:

- High school students (grades 9-12) enrolled in public or private school performing arts programs (e.g., chorus, band, orchestra, etc.) Home school students are also eligible.
- Undergraduate college students taking at least six credit hours per semester or quarter, regardless of major.

Music scholars are selected by audition, and participate in

The Reston Chorale's rehearsals and concerts throughout the season. In addition to awarding scholarship funds (up to $300 per season for high school students and up to $500 for college students), The Reston Chorale waives costs for membership dues and music (an annual value of more than $400) and loans concert attire to scholarship program participants.

For More Info and To Schedule an Audition

Scan the QR Code for more information about The Reston Chorale, as well as complete details on the scholarship program and auditions.

To schedule an audition or if you have questions, contact: Jacqueline Bordeaux, membership@restonchorale.org.

Inaugural scholarship recipients: Mary G. (Herndon High School), Mohammed K. and Rebecca G. (Chantilly H.S.), with Robert E. Simon Jr., Reston founder and founding member of The Reston Chorale. Also shown: music scholars Madeline B. (Langley H.S.), Audrey W. and David W. (South Lakes H.S.) Photo credits: Michael Olson.